

Christmas Baskets Will Be Provided For Needy Families

Red Cross, Salvation Army
And Churches Unite
In This Work.

RED CROSS WORKERS
DIRECTING EFFORTS

Lack Of Duplication Will Take Care Of Every Needy Family.

Salem's needy will be taken care of this Christmas.

Well filled baskets will be placed in each home by the Salem Red Cross, Salvation Army or churches.
Not one family will be missed in the systematic relief movement which is now under way to bring cheer into the homes where want and suffering are found.

Salem Red Cross is planning extensive relief work with Miss Bess Leach in charge. Names of all families requiring relief are being compiled.

Written notices requesting participating of churches have been forwarded by Miss Leach and return promises have been received in every instance.

Each church has been asked to care for the needy of the congregation and in cases where none is required, names of families will be submitted by Miss Leach.

After distributions are made by churches the Red Cross chapter will care for all remaining, stated Miss Leach who claimed that with this system in operation no families would be missed and duplications would be avoided.

The Salvation Army will conduct its annual Christmas relief work under the direction of Captain Roy Win-terbottom. The boiling pot will make its appearance on the streets in the business section in a few days.

While the exact number of families that are to be afforded relief is not known, Miss Leach states that plans are being made to care for at least 100 families with a probability that even more baskets will be distributed.

Elks To Give Annual Treat To Children

Salem lodge No. 205, B. P. O. Elks, will hold their annual Christmas treat for children at the home Chris-mas at noon.

to all needy children and a tree
erected in one of the rooms for a children's party.

A committee of the lodge recently appointed is obtaining from schools and other sources the names of all children requiring help. Cards will be mailed to each child inviting him to be present at the Christmas party
to receive the underwear, stockings, sweaters, mittens, stocking caps and other wearing apparel. Candy also will be given.

a demonstration of scout work at a

making a fire without matches.

At the social period the young people of the grange, who won in a lecture hour contest with the older peo-

Ohio Man Breaks Altitude Record With Passengers

Dayton, Dec. 8. — Lieut. Leigh Wade, McCook field, broke the world's altitude record for a Martin bomber with four passengers yesterday afternoon when he ascended 21, 600 feet.

The party was forced to descend
when this height was reached because of the intense cold. The thermometer registered 21 degrees below zero.

Serjt. Roy Langham, observer at the field, was made insensible by cold.

The ship was equipped with a Moss supercharger, the same as used by Lieut. J. A. Macready when he broke the world's altitude record in a solo flight.

The flight was made to experiment with new instruments which are being perfected at the field. No report has been given out by McCook field
on success of this part of the experiment.

Girls To Give Dolls To Poor

Miss Ruth Chalfant was hostess to members of the Philadelphia class of the Presbyterian church Wednesday evening at her home on Lincoln ave. The girls devoted the time to dressing dolls to be given to poor children at Christmas time.

They also planned to do some other charity work at that session.

40 MEN INJURED IN FRESH RIOTS AT STOCKYARDS

1,500 Policemen, Armed With Riot Guns, Placed
On Guard.

20,000 MEN, WOMEN,
CHILDREN IN RIOTS

Outbreak Continues Three Hours Before Police
Disperse Mobs.

Chicago, Dec. 8.—Rioting broke out afresh in the stockyards strike here today.

Forty men on their way to work in the yards were injured when a mob climbed the elevated railway structure at Fortieth and Wallace st's and hurled bricks and stones through the windows of a train bearing the workers.

The stockyards district virtually is an armed camp as the result of rioting that assumed the most serious proportions of any outbreak here
since the race riots of 1919.

Fifteen hundred policemen, armed with 200 riot guns and a supply of tear bombs, are on guard. State troops have not been asked as yet but Gov. Len Small, at Waukegan, announced that troops would be called out the moment the situation gets beyond the control of the police.

Women Among Riots
One man is reported to have been killed, nine are known to have been wounded—two possibly fatally—and a score received minor injuries in disturbances that marked the close of the day's work yesterday.

Twenty thousand men, women and children, it is estimated, participated in rioting, many of the mobs containing scores of women. The rioting continued for more than three hours before police dispersed the mobs.

Chief of Police Charles Fitzmorris assumed personal charge of the police and more than 1,000 officers were rushed to the district. Police fired several volleys over the heads of the rioters to drive them back.

Women and children were knocked down by clubs and missiles, men with broken heads were left lying in the streets and women who joined the strikers hurled red pepper at policemen.

Officials of most of the packing plants admit that the strike has handicapped their operations, declaring that they are operating at about 30 per cent capacity.

Union leaders contend that approximately 19,000 men are on strike in Chicago and declare that several thousand more will go out.

ONLY OBSTACLE REMOVED

London, Dec. 8. — Premier Lloyd

of congratulation from George Harvey the American ambassador, said:
"I believe that the Irish settlement removes the only obstacle existing between the two nations—America
and Britain."

Many Killed In Head-on Train Crash Near Philadelphia

Twenty-five persons were killed,
many of them so badly mangled that they could not be identified, when two Reading (Pa.) trains, dashing around a curve at high speed, crashed head-on near Bryn Athyn, Pa. One engine looped the loop.

The crash was heard for miles. Exploding gas tanks under the cars added to the horror.

The photo shows the burning cars in which the passengers were trapped and the smashed locomotives of the wrecked trains, which were tossed on the hill by the impact.

Christmas Seal Your Mail

Help combat tuberculosis by putting a Christmas seal on every letter and package you send from now until Christmas.

Those cheerful little messengers of good health are helping Ohio to win a wonderful victory over tuberculosis, once known as "Captain of the Men of Death."

Tuberculosis is preventable and generally curable. In 1919
the death rate in Ohio from this disease was 150 per 100, 000 population. Today it is only 102 for each 100,000 population.

Christmas Seal your Christmas mail and help drive down
Ohio's death rate.

Invest as many pennies in Christmas seals as you do in postage stamps and you may feel assured that your act is assisting the state and your own community in a worthwhile cause.

Report Japan Will Accept Naval Ratio

Washington, Dec. 8.—The period of uncertainty and suspense in which conference activities have languished
for some days will be ended by Saturday, it was stated in British and Japanese quarters this forenoon.

A British spokesman said that Japan has "unofficially" apprised
the conference powers here of her acceptance of the 5-5-3 naval ratio and her willingness to enter into an agreement designed to keep the peace of the Pacific.

At Japanese headquarters it was asserted that no "official" instruction
had been received from Tokyo, although "the trend of opinion" as received from Tokyo was very favorable to Japanese acceptance.

MANY KILLED, WOUNDED IN CAPTURING BANDITS

Citizens Open Fire After Robbers Take $14,000
From Bank.

Pine Lake, Mich., Dec. 8.—A running gun fight between bank robbers and citizens which started in Grand Rapids late yesterday afternoon ended here early today with one known dead, two reported killed and several wounded.

After looting the Michigan Exchange bank, the bandits barricaded themselves in a house and after killing one policeman and wounding another no badly that he cannot live, they escaped and started south in a stolen automobile.

At plainwell their automobile crashed into a fast passenger train at the crossing, demolishing the machine but the four members of the robber gang escaped unhurt.

At Bradley, where the robbers appeared in another stolen auto, a terrific battle ensued between them and deputies and armed citizens in which it is reported two deputies were killed and several persons shot, many of whom may die. The bandits again escaped.

When the lights of the bandit automobile flashed across the highway leading into Pine Lake, a stern set of deputies and citizens were there to erect them with another battle. In bandits were captured but not until the Pine Lake encounter all of the after several citizens were shot. During all the engagements, none of the bandits were wounded.

In the last hand car was found vast quantities of ammunition and part of the $14,000 stolen from the Grand Rapids bank late Wednesday.

Early this morning, the bandits were on their way back to Grand Rapids in one of their stolen cars, escorted by two score deputies and citizens.

One room at the city hall where the records of the typhoid fever epidemic are kept reminds one of the days of a year ago when that room was the headquarters of the health department was the scene of great activities.

But the present activities are of an entirely different nature. Last year it was to check the spread of the disease and now it is to obtain information to be used in the biology class at the high school.

Students have been working there for days. Each has made a careful study of the geographical distribution of cases. Reports of each student will be submitted at class recitations.

As in the case of other surveys each student was given one portion of the city to study. He obtains all information of that section. This information is to be collected and plot-ed on maps at the high school.

The sanitary conditions at each home, the water used and the source of supply of milk are studied in each case.

500 Parents Hear Special Programs In Public Schools

Cupid Is Making Poor Record

The records show at the probate office that there is going to be a falling off in the total number of marriage licenses granted this year unless there is great activity along this line between now and Christmas.

The shortage is attributed to the scarcity of work, the continued high rents and general
cost of living.

Campbell, the principal, and Miss Effie Cameron discussed the teachers

at the Columbia ave. school. Rev. Mr.
Rutzky's talk was along the line of education from text books and he spoke of the great text book, the Bible.

sity of education, while Miss Mar-silia's talk related to the mother's need of education and she told why pupils should go to school after they reached the age where the law permitted them to quit. There were 100 visitors.

School" was the subject on which dren's Work." Miss Boushall spoke of "Sunday School and the Schools." The visitors at this school numbered 89.

Men Trapped In Sub Saved As Boat Sinks

New York, Dec. 8.—Forty-five men including two officers and three men of the U. S. navy, were rescued from the submarine S-48 after it had nose dived, leaving only its stern and one torpedo tube protruding above the water a few miles off Bridgeport
early today.

The men were brought to the Brooklyn navy yards by a Standard Oil boat. The men had been trapped aboard the submarine more than 11 hours.

The submarine, built by the late Torpedo Boat Co., of Bridgeport, was undergoing a test prior to its acceptance by the United States navy. The chief naval officer aboard was Lieut.
Com. Stanley Haas, who returned to Bridgeport today leaving only three U. S. naval men at the Brooklyn navy yard hospital to be treated for poisoning from chlorine fumes. The rest of the crew went back to Bridgeport.

"If the water had been deeper, it was only 60 feet where we went down, we certainly would have been lucky to have escaped," said one of the rescued men.

GUARD FIVE NEGROES JAILED FOR MURDER

Dyersburg, Tenn., Dec. 8. — Fifty Tennessee national guardsmen arrived here this morning from Memphis and threw a strong picket line
about the local jail in which are imprisoned five negroes, held in connection with the killing of R. L.
Burkett, stock raiser.

The guardsmen were called after a mob of several hundred gathered in the streets of the town and threatened to lynch the negroes.

Many Ships Lost In Coast Storms

and 17 small fishing crafts have been lost in a furious winter storm off this coast, reports indicated today. Sixteen sailors are reported to have perished.

flask if you have one.

seeking evil doers against searching the persons of individuals without search warrants.

38 OHIOANS DIE IN FIRES LAST MONTH

persons in Ohio whose deaths were due to fire last month, 12
were babies or young children,
according to State Fire Marshal Dykeman. Eight persons were burned to death in buildings. Injuries were sustained by 47 persons during fires.

The state fire marshal expressed belief that 97 per cent of the fires could have been prevented.

LEGISLATIVE CHANGES IN RECOMMENDATIONS OF ATTORNEY GENERAL

Washington, Dec. 8.—Nine specific legislative recommendations designed to remove defects in existing federal statutes were brought to the attention of congress today in the first annual report of Attorney General Daugherty. The report also contained a complete review of the work of the department of justice for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1921.

The attorney general's recommendations for legislation were:

1.—Making it a capital crime to kill a federal officer while engaged in executing a process.

2.—Authorizing the presence of stenographers at grand jury sessions.

3.—A statute providing punishment for a single person who defrauds or attempts to defraud the United States.

4.—Making it criminal to attempt to commit a crime against the United States.

5.—Making it unlawful to send threatening letters through the mail.

6.—A statute to authorize liquidation of claims for damages to vessels during the war.

7.—Authorization of the appointment of 18 additional federal judges to relieve congestion in federal courts.

8.—Extension of a statute of limitation in prosecutions under bankruptcy laws from one to three years.

9.—A law to permit appeal direct to the court of customs appeals on questions of law involved in decisions on appeals to reappraisal of importations.

In discussing the administration of the trading with the enemy act, the attorney general called attention to the provision of the peace treaty with Germany, which provides that the property of enemies is to be held until American claims are satisfied.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured
by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. Catarhal Deafness requires constitutional treatment. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE is a constitutional remedy. Catarhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced, your hearing may be destroyed forever. HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE acts through the blood on the mucous surface of the system, thus reducing the inflammation and restoring normal conditions.

Training For Success
For many years Ohio has been one of the leading states in organized effort to interest and educate the boys and girls in the practical things of the farm and home. The work got its first great impetus and statewide development when A. P. Sandles of the old board of agriculture organized clubs and aroused competition about ten years ago, prize winners being given a free trip to Washington. From the first the competition was great, contestants numerous and interest all that could be desired. Later the work was turned over to the department of agriculture at Ohio State university. It has been carried on successfully there being 779 prize winners from 75 counties at the recent meeting when the prize winners were the guests of the state. The purpose is to train boys and girls for success in life on the farm and in the home. It makes for production and conservation, promising for the state the large results possible when scientific training is applied to both.

There are 12 state prize winners in the list of 779 that had won in contests in counties. It is interesting to read the records made and learn what the boys and girls have been able to do. Franklin Paff, 16 years old, Montgomery county, raised 126.8 bushels of corn on one acre, more than double the average yield of the state. Alice Budwig, 17, Cuyahoga county, raised and sold $196 worth of produce from one-quarter of an acre devoted to garden. Elmer Zepp, 17, Cuyahoga county, one-tenth of an acre, raised 35.9 bushels of potatoes, or at the rate of 359 bushels per acre. Grace Stanford, 14, Portage county, canned 200 pints of fruit and put up 196 pints of vegetables, while Bertha May Drain, 15, Washington county, made all the articles of clothing enumerated in the state championship program and then added 19 others of her own manufacture.

Gladys Metz, 16, Auglaize county, won poultry honors, she having handled the poultry on her father's farm and made it financially successful. Franklin Routsong, 16, Wood county, won honors for successful handling of sheep, his work showing a large financial profit, and Mabel Wilson, 12, Muskingum county, won the honors for successful handling of calves. Charles Beilman, 14, Franklin county, knew how to raise pigs and made the work profitable and Howard Kline, 15, Ross county, in growing pigs took the high honors at the state fair and won the same honor in the contest. Hugh Johnson, 15, Hamilton county, made his record in poultry raising and Dean Malster, 15, Washington county, for the second time won the state championship in raising beef calves.

Economists would revel in estimating the productive worth of the training these contests give to the boys and girls. It has been under way for ten years. Some thousands have tried their skill each year and hundreds have been winners. The accumulation of productive scientific skill and the courage in production developed by experience and success mean uncounted advantage to the individual and to the public than the boys' and girls' clubs in agricultural production.

MOST CONCERN IS CAUSED BY CHINA

CONFERENCE WORKING ON PLAN FOR THE OPEN DOOR WITH EQUAL PRIVILEGES.

JAPAN SHOULD BE SATISFIED

She Would Have Special Trade Opportunities With Her Neighbor—Alliance Between Them Would Not Please Western Powers.

Washington, Dec. 5.—China, much more than limitation of armament or any other subject to come before the great international conference, has been and, in some measure, still is the most outstanding rock of trouble in the course of peaceful conference settlements.

Today it seems as if the Chinese questions are to be answered to the satisfaction, or at any rate to the seeming satisfaction, of the nations of the world. Japan, of course, is most vitally interested in the outcome of the negotiations as they affect China, for Japan always has intimated that she ought to have some kind of a "Monroe doctrine right" in the eastern seas.

Under the present plan, as proposed by members of the international conference, the intention is to keep China's doorway open, with equal privileges for all the national traders. The Japanese interests, it is said, will be cared for adequately. This presumably will satisfy Japan and will make for peace in the conference and for future peace in the world.

The expected has happened so far as preliminary plans to settle the Chinese question are concerned. Secretary Hughes has taken occasion to intimate that Japan should be satisfied with the open-door proposal, because she is "on the threshold" of the doorway.

Equal Privileges in China.

It has been possible prior to this time to give a forecast of this plan, coupled with the statement that it probably would be agreeable to the Japanese. What has been written before is entirely pertinent to the situation today. The extract of explanation of what was to come is as follows:

"Equal privileges for trade with China does not mean at all that some one will not have special privileges. This sounds like a contradiction, but it is no contradiction. It is believed that the Japanese will be entirely agreeable to the equal privileges proposal and readily will lend their sanction."

"Equal trade opportunities for all nations with China means, of course, that each nation will have the right to trade freely and under the same conditions as all other nations. But other things enter into the matter—geographical position, which means much; an understanding of the Chinese temperament and an understanding, also, of Chinese conditions."

"Japan is a close neighbor of China. The Japanese are Asiatics. Their position on the map, the quickness with which they can reach sources of supplies in China, and some other things will give to Japan special trade privileges in China which other nations cannot enjoy, although the words 'equal privileges' may be written into any agreement."

Naturally there will be objections to some of the proposals as they affect China. The Japanese will seek more than it is intended to give them, but there is nothing today to show that eventually Japan's representatives will not accept the proposals which have been made and which, in some measure, are the offerings of China itself.

Natural Allies Not Friendly.

China and Japan do not get along well together. Every military authority in the world probably realizes the fact that Japan and China should be natural allies. They also realize the fact, probably, that if China had advanced as Japan has advanced, China never would have been in a "paralyzed condition." If China were as Japan is, it could put an army of 75,000,000 soldiers in the field—which is something of an army.

As things are there is no love lost between the Chinese and the Japanese, although one element in China is supposed to be favorable to allowing Japan to exercise a sort of physical and mental domination over China until the country shall become, like Japan, a great civilized nation and a great military power. It is not altogether likely that such a condition would be welcomed by the Western powers, for there would be a menace in the East at which no Western nation could look without something like perturbation of spirit.

A little more than a century ago it was believed generally that France and England never could become allies. The British hated the French and the French hated the British. Geographically the conditions were right for an alliance and safety for each government should have urged it; but it was many years before the alliance came. Some students of world conditions think that what happened in the case of France and England may one day happen in the case of China and Japan. How will the Western world of a coming generation look on such a condition in the East?

RAILROAD EARNINGS SHOW BIG INCREASE

Washington, Dec. 5.—The railroad earnings for October amounted to $105,196,253, the largest figure in many months, according to figures compiled today from interstate commerce commission reports by the Association of Railway Executives.

The earning rate thus demonstrated, the association said, however, would be but 5 per cent on the railroad property involved and was accompanied "by reduction of maintenance to the lowest standards consistent with safety."

The total earnings given were reported by 199 class one roads, which control by far the greatest proportion of the country's track mileage. The statement credited a part of the earnings shown to the fact that October was normally the heaviest traffic month of the year while the threat of a general strike impending operated to increase loadings and rush shipments. Total net operating income of the larger carriers for the year to Oct. 31, the statement said, was $494,606,269, indicating an annual net return of 3.2 per cent on the estimated net value of railroad property.

Operating expenses in October consumed 74.2 per cent of revenue, as compared with 82 per cent in the same month last year.

Seniors Busy As Bees Preparing For Big Carnival

Under the skillful guidance of competent chairmen the different committees of the Senior carnival have taken a great step toward perfection.

The high school is full of erstwhile dignified seniors running in and out of classes and making the "Freshies" envious of their freedom. But it is not all play. Hard work alone brings success. Every night there are committee meetings in various rooms and there plans are made with great secrecy.

Also after school strains of music are wafted all over the building from the Salem Symphony orchestra practicing in the auditorium. This collection of artists will be a big feature in connection with the vaudeville.

The movies—there you will see—Well you never can tell what will happen!

The crazy house is full to overflowing. Most of its prominent inmates made their reservations early and avoided the rush.

As for candy and sewing booths—when the girls tackle anything they usually see it through right.

The stage is set. On Dec. 16 and 17 there will be presented by the seniors assisted by the rest of the school the greatest carnival ever staged in S. H. S.

SUITS INSTITUTED

The Central Building & Loan of Wellsville and the Firestone Bank of Lisbon, are named defendants in the case of Joe Gordon vs. Yetta Telden and others filed in the Franklin county court in Cuyahoga county, the loan and bank having some interests in property which is to be sold in foreclosure proceedings.

Donald Maxine and Van Allen Mills minors, and Clara Stackhouse all of East Rochester, in West township, are named defendants in the case of W. E. Lukens vs. Frank Daugherty and others, filed in the Franklin county court. Local defendants in both cases were notified Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff Frank Ballantine.

Washington, Dec. 5.—Reversing a previous decision issued Aug. 12, 1921 the interstate commerce commission today authorized the New York Central, the New York, Chicago & St. Louis, and the Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railroads to acquire control of the Cleveland Union Terminal company and to construct and operate a terminal station for passenger trains "on the square" in that city.

OLD FASHIONED REMEDY IN NEW SCIENTIFIC FORM

Your Grandmother Made Nash's Salve in Crude Way

SHE CURED COLDS, TOO

Remember how grandma used to cure colds. She made a thick concoction of menthol, camphor, turpentine and such things and rubbed it most all over you. Was sort of smeary and it greased up your clothing pretty much, but it sure did the work.

Nash's Croup-Neumonia Salve is made on the same principle and contains all of grandmother's pet cold killers. It is a scientific combination of Menthol, Camphor, Oils of Pine, Sassafras, Thyme and Eucalyptus in a base of fine quality petroleum. Though stronger than the old-fashioned remedy it is really pleasant to use and will not stain or soil the clothing.

Used for colds, coughs, croup, asthma, bronchitis and kindred ailments, this salve simply works wonders. Applied in each nostril it creates a vapor that clears the head almost instantly, at the same time soothing and healing the inflamed membranes of nasal passages.

Nash's Salve is also a powerful penetrant. Rubbed liberally upon throat and chest it loosens deep-seated cough or cold in one night, placing the patient in the convalescent class in a few hours.

Druggists sell it and speak of Nash's Salve as "that stronger kind." Get a bottle today, 30 and 60-cent sizes, use it for your cold and see how fine it is. Get it at your favorite drug store, The Lease Drug Co., Floding's Pharmacy, or Bolger & French's.

For the best thesis on a scientific subject written by a woman before the end of the year a $1,000 prize will be awarded at a Baltimore college for women.

MOTHER! CLEAN CHILD'S BOWELS WITH CALIFORNIA FIG SYRUP

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold or has colic, give a teaspoonful to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste out of the bowels and you have a well-playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

SHAKESPEARE IS ALL WRONG

Police Judge Rules World Isn't Stage, After All, and Finds Woman Impersonator of Men.

Police officers and detectives can spot the shifty eye of a pickpocket, the heavy jaw of a stick-up man—perhaps—and the other peculiar physical characteristics of the male clan of crime. But it takes a policeman to detect suspicious characters by their dress. Police routine and discipline cannot, apparently, wear off the keen instinct of a woman for the style of a toque, the set of a sash, and the hang of outer garments in the back.

Recently Bella de Turk walked down town. She got as far as the post office. In so doing she probably passed several policemen who looked no sign of suspicious character in the passerby. But at the post office stood Mrs. Edith Fisher and Miss Emily Greer, policemen. The eyes of the policeman discerned at once that the figure of the gentleman walking by would have been set off to much greater advantage had he worn feminine dress, says the Columbus Dispatch. So they accosted him and found it was her. And Miss de Turk, fitted out in a man's cap, coat and trousers and other apparel to match, took a ride to the police station with Mrs. Fisher and Miss Greer. There she refused to solve the riddle of her masculine attire and was released on bond.

"I am an impersonator of men characters, appearing at the movie theaters," she told the court. It then followed that she had neglected to change back into feminine dress after the show. Judge Perry fined her $25 and costs for the overstay and laid her a reminder that Shakespeare is to the world's not a stage.

Seeks Caveman As Third Mate

Mrs. Nina McBride

"The difference between abstract and concrete labor has no significance to a bride. Neither does a 'living book' who catenches her on political economy all night satisfy the yearnings of her heart."

"What a woman really wants is a vital, physical husband, who will hold her in his two strong arms and smother her with bites and kisses."

This is the philosophy backed by personal experience of Nina Lane McBride, well known authoress and illustrator.

Divorced from her first husband whom she describes as an "imitator caveman," Mrs. McBride has given her second husband, Isaac McBride, only a "mental mate," to Lena Braun, known in the Connecticut hills as "Lena the Goddess."

Now Mrs. McBride announces she is in vigorous search of the third husband, "a real cave man, a tall blonde man with a cleft in his chin," who will drag her into his lair by the hair of her head. Mrs. McBride's home is in Redding Ridge, Conn.

INGROWN TOE NAIL TURNS OUT ITSELF

A few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrown nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

"Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

OBITUARY

William Gray

Jesse Gray received a telegram Thursday morning conveying the news of the death of his brother, William Gray, 79, of Cleveland, Wednesday night following an illness of pneumonia.

Mr. Gray was a former Salem resident. He had resided in Cleveland for 31 years and was a teamster by occupation. At the time of his death he made his home with his daughter Mrs. Louise Johnson.

He is survived by nine children all residing in Cleveland. Their names are:

David, Jesse, Leo and Harvey Gray and Mrs. Ora Running, Mrs. Neve Binkley, Mrs. Louise Johnson, Mrs. Irene Joseph and Miss Effie Gray.

Mrs. James Ellis

Without regaining consciousness from a stroke which he suffered last Thursday, Mrs. Valinda Ellis, 73, wife of James Ellis, died Wednesday at the family home in East Palestine.

Mrs. Ellis last Thursday was engaged in performing household duties in the upstairs of her home. Her daughter-in-law, Miss Oliver Ellis upon going to the elder Mrs. Ellis' room, found her unconscious form on the floor in a bedroom. Mrs. Ellis' condition gradually became worse until the end came.

The deceased had been a resident of East Palestine for 40 years. She was born between there and Negley on Nov. 4, 1848. Her maiden name was Miss Valinda Shaffer and she was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Shaffer. Her marriage to James Ellis was solemnized 34 years ago.

Funeral service will be at the home Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Ellis is survived by her husband and one son, Oliver Ellis, who is a member of the faculty of Rayen high school, Youngstown.

Mrs. Caleb Davies

Relatives here have been advised of the death of Mrs. Rebecca C. Davies, 76, of Cleveland, wife of Caleb Davies, Tuesday night. Details of her death were not given.

Rebecca French Davies, daughter of Albert and Elizabeth French, was born at Damascus. She spent the greater part of her girlhood near Salem.

Surviving are the husband and the following children:

H. B. Davies, Cleveland, former manager of the Hemmeter store, Salem; Rev. J. P. Davies, China; Mrs. Anna L. Pardington, Myack, N. Y.; Caleb Davies, Jr., Youngstown, and Florence at home.

The funeral will be at 2 p. m. Friday at Cleveland. C. S. French and Morris French of this city expect to attend.

BIG ULCER ALL HEALED

"One that I would rather have than a thousand dollars."

"Money isn't everything in this world. There is many a big-hearted, rich man who would give all he has on earth to be able to produce a remedy with such mighty healing power as Peterson's Ointment, to sell at all druggists for 60 cents a large box."

Dear Sirs:—

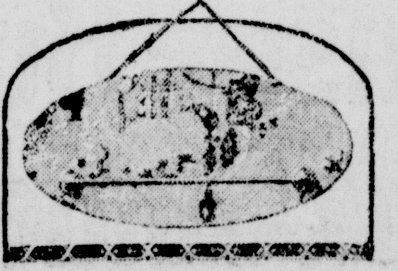

"I was an untold sufferer from old running sores and ulcers. I had tried most everything without any relief from pain. A friend told me of your wonderful ointment and the first box took away the pain that had not left me before in years, and after using just nine dollars' worth of the salve I am cured. The ulcer was 9 inches by 6 1/2 inches, is all healed and I can walk. Never, never will I be without Peterson's again."

"Here is another letter that makes me happy," says Peterson, of Buffalo. "You may use this to recommend your ointment, if you wish. I cannot say enough to praise it." Yours truly, Mrs. Albert Southcott, Medina, N. Y.

THINGS THAT NEVER HAPPEN

HIGHER RAIL CHARGE ON HOGS IS REFUSED

Columbus, Dec. 8.—The proposed increase of 5 per cent in freight rates on hogs, which has been pending since Aug. 1, was set aside Wednesday by the public utilities commission on petition of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

Farm bureau members contended the increased freight rates absorbed the benefits obtained in the passage of the Albaugh law, which fixes the minimum weight of a carload of hogs at 16,000 pounds.

The law was detained through the efforts of the farm organizations at the last session of the legislature.

Shippers held that they were unable to load 17,000 pounds in a car without serious injury to the hogs and loss to the shipper and carrier.

The proposed increase would have averaged $2.87 a car.

Improved Methods.

Myles—"Good boarding house where you're stopping now?" Styles—"I should say so. It's very high-toned." Myles—"Ever have hash?" Styles—"Never; only meat croquettes."

Eagles Turn Attention To Basket Ball

With the approach of basketball season Salem lodge No. 316, Fraternal Order of Eagles, is seriously considering placing a basketball team on the floor to compete with other Eagle teams of surrounding cities and also with independent teams.

While no definite action has been taken by the lodge it is understood that a number of basketball playing members have agitated the movement and that if an available place can be secured to play the game without the lodge going to any unnecessary expense a team is almost assured.

There is no lack of material in the lodge and it would not be necessary to go outside for players. Several ex-high school stars, numbered among the best floor artists in Salem and others who played independent basketball are members of the lodge and are willing to play.

It is understood that efforts are being made to secure the high school gymnasium and if a satisfactory agreement is reached with school officials a team may be organized.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT, IS FIERY, ITCHY OR ROUGH USE, SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Menthosulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ destroying properties, it quickly subdues itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Menthosulphur at any drug store.

SALTS IS FINE FOR KIDNEYS, QUIT MEAT

Flush the Kidneys at Once When Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers (N)

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, head aches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, all sorts of bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complication.

GREATEST DEMAND FOR LOANS ON INSURANCE COMES FROM FARMERS

New York, Dec. 8.—While the present financial readjustment is being reflected in increased borrowing by policyholders on their life insurance, the high peak of such loans that was reached in 1914 is not in sight, according to original statistics presented at this afternoon's closing session of the 50th annual convention of the Association of Life Insurance Presidents.

Figures received from companies transacting 89 per cent of the life insurance business in the United States showed that the policy loans on Sept. 30 of this year amounted to $32,959,000. This represents 14.68 per cent of the reserves and therefore has a long way to go before reaching the high mark of 17.97 per cent in 1914.

The lowest percentage in 10 years was 13.57, in 1919, which year was remarkable for the amount of policy loans paid off by the American people. Based on the Sept. 30 figures, the life insurance men calculate that the policy loans for all United States companies now approximate $1,999,000,000. There is a wide difference in the percentage of borrowing as between different sections of the country, the farmers leading the city people in this respect.

These and other current developments in the mortgaging of life insurance policies were submitted by Henry S. Nollan of Des Moines, president of the Equitable Life Insurance Company of Iowa, to the convention in connection with the consideration of plans for next year's business by the life insurance executives.

About 18 months ago, the demand for loans on policies began to show a marked increase, which has risen so steadily in all of the companies throughout the country that an inquiry into the prevailing tendency among policyholders to borrow upon the security of their policies seems timely," said Mr. Nollan.

"A comparison of the geographical distribution in which the lowest and highest ratios prevailed, led to an investigation of the predominating activities of the population in each group. As a general rule, the higher loan ratios correspond to those districts in which the larger percentage of rural population prevails, reflecting the drop in prices of farm products."

OLD AGE PENSIONS TO BE ADVOCATED

Ohio Federation of Labor Gets Behind the Movement.

MEETING CALLED FOR JAN. 10

Freight Rate Reduction Imperative If Ohio Farmers Are to Experience Prosperity, Director Phipps Declares Before Grain Elevator Men, Observation of American Education Week in Buckeye State.

Columbus, Dec. 8.—The initiation of a bill providing for old age pensions is being backed by the Ohio Federation of Labor, and should the measure fail to pass the legislature it will be referred to the people for a vote, declare officials of the federation, who have just made known the fact that the organization is behind such a movement.

A meeting has been called for Jan. 10-11 at Columbus by the federation, at which all organizations favoring such a measure are invited and at which meeting, according to T. J. Donnelly, secretary of the organization, plans will be laid for initiating such a law and drawing the bill to be introduced.

Two such measures have been introduced by members of the legislature, but neither have been acted on. According to Donnelly, the federation will probably adopt the bill introduced at the last session by Representative Caldwell and which was not acted on by the house.

This measure provides for the payment of approximately $1 a day to persons over 65 years of age, after certain conditions have been complied with, and certain qualifications met, the salient ones being:

That the person be a resident of Ohio on the day he established his claim of pension; that he has been a resident for not less than 15 years preceding such date; that he has been a citizen of the United States for at least 15 years preceding the filing of application; that his yearly income does not amount to $350 or upward; that the net capital value of the accumulated property of such person, or the accumulated property of a husband or wife of such person, does not amount to $2,500 or more. Property rights of those applying for pensions are defined, and it is brought out that in the event of the awarding of a pension to a person with property, the real estate shall be conveyed to the pension commission and at the death of the pensioners sold and the difference between the proceeds and what has been paid to the donors in pensions, if any, turned over to the state.

The exact compensation is defined as $5 a week. The tendency now, according to Donnelly, is for $1 a day, and the chances are that the initiated law will contain that provision.

There must be a reduction of freight rates if the farmers of Ohio are to experience prosperity, declared Director of Finance Phipps before the Ohio grain elevator men, meeting Monday in Columbus.

Phipps declared this readjustment must be equal to the amount of the increase of August, 1920, when 40 per cent was added to the rate. Both Phipps and George J. Bolander, who is directing the work of gathering data to bring before the public utilities commission in an endeavor to reduce the rate, declared there was every reason for a decrease and that no stone would be left unturned to bring about a reduction of road building material rates.

Bolander declared that, according to railroad figures, freight rates have increased 111 per cent since the upward trend started in 1914. He also declared that while states west of the Mississippi and south of the Ohio had been increased only 56 to 69 per cent Ohio and other mid-west states had been boosted 167 per cent.

He said the voluntary reduction of 10 per cent, which went into effect last week, would not stop the campaign for a greater reduction and was but an admission on the part of the railroads that the rate was excessive.

The Ohio state department of education, entering into the plan for the observation of American education week, has asked that every school in Ohio observe the week, and that a light be burned in each schoolhouse on the night of Dec. 9.

The week, which opens Sunday, is sponsored by 35 national organizations under the leadership of the American Legion and the National Education association, and is intended to impress on every citizen the need and value of education.

The week is expected to reach its climax Friday night, when rallies and meetings will be held in schoolhouses over the state for the purpose of discussing the conditions and needs of the schools in the various communities and to plan ways and means for improving these conditions and meeting the needs of the schools. The promoters of this movement are not depending on the schools alone for what they say is one of the greatest advancements toward Americanization, but are asking the ministers and press of the country to assist in giving it publicity.

The Ohio state highway department has shown its approval of the "Safety Week" campaign by decreeing that all bill boards and signs so located on highways as to obstruct the view of motorists must go, according to an order issued by Director of Highways Herrick.

Included in this order is the filling station perched on the road in such close proximity to a turn in the road as to make it a menace to drivers. The Ohio State Automobile association and other kindred organizations have pledged their support to assist Herrick in carrying out his order.

Telephone rate changes during the period of the merger of the Ohio Bell Telephone and Ohio State Telephone companies will not be tolerated, says the state public utilities commission in again refusing the Bell Telephone company permission to increase the rates in Sandusky, where the Bell company last spring took over the Sandusky County Bell Telephone company. At the time of the merger the Bell company asked permission to fix a higher rate and was turned down by the commission, which on rehearing stuck to its former decision.

J. L. Taber, state director of agriculture and master of the Ohio State grange, will not be a candidate for re-election to the grange job, as the grange and politics do not mix, according to Taber.

Taber declares the grange has no part in politics and that "no grange master ever made a political speech while in office. I intend to get out on the stump next summer and fall and have a few things to say. For this reason I will not consent to be mentioned for re-election," said Taber.

The Ohio grange, which has grown from fifth place to second, being outnumbered by New York only, during Taber's administration, now has a membership of 108,101. Taber tendered his resignation as master six months ago, when he was appointed director of agriculture, but the grange has as yet refused to accept it.

C. A. Dyer of Coalton, long associated with Taber in the grange work, is said to be an active candidate for the job.

Schools established by the Ohio board of vocational training during the past three years have an enrollment of 8,870 students in part time and full time evening classes. The student personnel is made up entirely of youths and adults whose work prevents their attendance in regular schools.

The results of the work, which was established when the Smith-Hughes vocational training act was passed by congress three years ago, have been entirely satisfactory, it is said. Under this system the federal government matches, dollar for dollar, the appropriations of the state government for vocational training.

Subjects cover a wide range, including both theoretical and practical studies of various courses. Shop work classes cover actual work in the line which the student wishes to pursue, while at the same time a study of related subjects is carried on.

Carpentry, plumbing, electricity, printing, metal work, auto mechanics and machine shop instruction are included in the shop work courses. Such subjects as drawing and designing, shop arithmetic, trade science, drafting and mine instruction are covered by the theoretical study.

Classes in civics, current events, hygiene and other subjects which may be required by local boards of education, classes receiving instruction for from four to eight hours a week.

Part time preparatory courses for persons wishing to enter a certain trade or line of occupation, and part time extension courses for persons already employed at their chosen work but desiring advancement, are offered. In many cases employers have paid employees at regular wages during their attendance in these schools. Of the total enrollment 6,405 are in evening schools in 45 cities of Ohio, and 2,465 are in part time schools which are conducted in 30 cities.

A complete detailed report of the expenditures for the first five months of the year, now being prepared by the department of fiscal supervisor, will show, it is said, that the state purchasing department is far behind in filling requisitions for the various state institutions. A condition caused, it is said, by the recent changes in the personnel of the purchasing department.

Two special examinations for state jobs have been called for the month of December by the state civil service commission. The first examination for the position of superintendent of the Clinton county home will be held Dec. 15, at Wilmington, and the second, called for the same day at Waverly, will be for a superintendent and matron of the Pike county children's home. Special representatives of the commission will conduct the examinations.

MRS. GEORGE'S LITTLE DAUGHTER

A Very Delicate Child Was Made Strong and Robust by Taking Vinol

Daughter of Mrs. L. W. George

Aiken, S. C.—"My little daughter was thin, delicate and ailing. I was very much worried over her condition. I heard about Vinol and decided to try it, and I must say the results were simply marvelous. Her appetite improved, she gained in weight, her color came back in her cheeks and all my friends comment on the change as she is now one of the healthiest children in town. All mothers who have delicate, puny, ailing children should try Vinol."—Mrs. L. W. George, 1119 Newberry st., Aiken, S. C.

The reason Vinol is so successful in such cases is because it contains the tissue building and medicinal elements of cods' livers, without oil, aided by the blood making, strength creating properties of tonic iron and beef peptone. $1.00 per bottle guaranteed. The Leese Drug Co.

A Scientific Prediction.
The story is often told of the great naturalist, Cuvier, that, given a single bone he could reconstruct the animal to which it belonged. That a somewhat similar law of organization runs through the various species that form families in the animal kingdom is indicated by a curious case of scientific prediction, to which attention was called at a recent meeting of the Biological society in this country.

Ehrenberg, while studying the minute animals called diatoms, found that many species were distinguished by the number of rays they possessed. But in the series of specimens that he had he could find none having respectively 27, 29, 31, 37, 39, 41, 42, 44, 45, 46, 48 and 49 rays. Still he predicted that the missing species would some day turn up, and he was right, for ten of them were afterward discovered, although the remaining two have not yet been found.

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get the famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

Goldfish as bred in China and Japan, assume strange shapes. The variety known as the Celestial has eyes on the top of its head, the Telescope has grotesque, protruding eyes while the Tumbler can not maintain its equilibrium in the water owing to its curious shape.

Butterscotch.
Take three cupsful of brown sugar, three-fourths of a cupful of water, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one-eighth of a teaspoonful of soda, a teaspoonful of flavoring and a few grains of salt. Boil all together except the flavoring until a thread is formed when dropped from a spoon. Pour off into buttered pans, let stand until cool enough to mark off into squares.

Molasses Candy.
Boil together until brittle in water, two cupsful of molasses, two tablespoonfuls of butter, two cupsful of brown sugar, one cupful of water and one-third of a cupful of vinegar. Pour into greased pans and pull when cool enough. Cut with a pair of shears into lengths, wrap in a waxed paper.

Pralines.
Boil together one and seven-eighths cupsful of powdered sugar, one cupful of maple syrup and one-half cupful of cream until a soft ball is made, when tried in cold water. Remove from the fire and beat until of a creamy consistency. Add two cupsful of hickory nut meats or pecans and drop on waxed paper in small cakes.

Chocolate Fudge.
Take two cupsful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one-third of a cupful of syrup, one-half cupful of milk and cook with a square or two of grated chocolate until it makes a soft ball when dropped in cold water. Cool slightly before stirring, then stir until thick. Put into a well buttered pan and mark off in squares. Nuts may be added if liked and a teaspoonful of any desired flavoring.

What Do You Mean, Chicken?
"A blonde chicken is an uncertain and confusing quantity where a brunette one is much more understandable," says an experienced automobilist.
"Whenever I see a white chicken in the distance I instantly slow down, as they always flutter around in the road, running from side to side, seemingly unable to determine which way to go, whereas the brunette hen calmly chooses the side of safety and slips off the right of way."
"Something very characteristic in the action of these two types of bird."—Columbus Dispatch.

Has the real Christmas spirit been kind upon its tier by a lot of old fogies who have lived too long to sense the thrill of the holly and mistletoe; whose spectacles and whiskers have debarred them from entering the kingdom of pure delight where the children wander; and whose desiccated spirits have been warped with acid astuteness until they can no longer flow with the sweet joy of Christmas cheer? No! New Story By Van Dyke

Henry VanDyke's short story in the December Scribner's, "To Avernus and Out," is in a different vein from anything he has ever written. It shows how thoroughly he knows the varying shades of life in a great city and the possibility of a down and out through circumstances, finding a way to a life of hope and promise. The story is intensely dramatic and holds the reader's attention from the beginning.

CAN'T DROP STUDY OF POISON GASES

NATIONS KNOW THEY MUST BE PREPARED AGAINST ATTACK
BY WORD-BREAKING FOE.

MAY PROHIBIT THEM IN WAR

Chemical Warfare Services of the Armies, However, Will Continue in Operation—Book on Subject by Fries and West.

Washington, Dec. 8.—President Harding Thursday afternoon received the members of the United States Pottery Owners' association now in convention here at the new Willard hotel.

The outstanding points of yesterday's session prior to the adjournment to hear an address by Herbert Hoover was the intimation that B. E. Salisbury, president of the association for the past term, may be named to succeed himself if he can be persuaded to permit the use of his name in this connection. Upon being asked, he declared: "My succession would be against precedent and the honors should be distributed."

Frank P. Judge of Saltville is in line for the presidency if Mr. Salisbury definitely refuses to serve again. Following a suggestion by the United States department of standards that American dinnerware and hotel ware be standardized at a caucus of the nominating committee decision was made to eliminate the committee on materials. To replace this body a research committee, composed of 10 technical men was named. A. V. Kleininger of East Liverpool was appointed chairman.

A lecture was given in the bureau of standards by the bureau experts. Washington.—Poison gases and airplanes are two of the chief factors in the problem of the limitation of armament. So far as the airplanes are concerned, the use of them in war is so bound up with their use for commercial purposes in peace that limitation of development probably will be impossible. An airplane that is serviceable under all conditions for commercial purposes is serviceable for most conditions in war.

Everybody connected with the conference knows that poison gas has come to stay. It is possible, of course, that its use in warfare may be prohibited, but it is known, because of the necessities of the commercial case, that experiments in chemistry will go on, and that hand in hand with them will go the study of the production of poison gases which can be used in war.

The conferees lay stress upon defense as opposed to offense. No one has suggested that a nation divest itself of enough of its armor to prevent its taking care of itself in case it is attacked. In the words of Banty Tim, "You can resoloot till the cows come home," but "resolootin'" will not prevent some nation or other from breaking its word in wartime if it is given to word-breaking.

Fries and West Write a Book.

On the advisory committee of the American board of delegates is the chief of the chemical warfare service of the United States army, Brig. Gen. Amos A. Fries. The views of General Fries and of Major Clarence J. West of the reserve corps, a chemist of high standing, have been made known on the general subject of poison gas, and its uses. In fact, the two have just written and published an extraordinarily interesting book called "Chemical Warfare," with a foreword written by Maj. Gen. William L. Sibert, U. S. A. (Retired), who was the first director of the chemical warfare service during the war. General Fries was the chief of the same service in the American expeditionary forces during the war.

There seems to be a wide public interest just now in poison gases. The conference in Washington, it is known, shares the general public interest in the matter.

Concerning the future of chemical warfare, it has been said by General Fries, in his book on the subject: "While some of the chemicals developed for use in war prior to the armistice have been made known to the world, a number of others have not. More than this, every nation of first-class importance has continued to pursue, more or less energetically, studies into chemical warfare. These studies will continue, and we must expect that new gases, new methods of turning them loose, and new tactical uses will be developed."

Gases Not Known to the Public.

The foregoing presents some interesting and possibly startling information. There are gases today of which nothing is known by the general public. It is true that publicity has been given to the fact that a gas has been made, three drops of which, when in liquid form, will kill a man, but no body knows, except the American experimenters, just how this gas is made. It can be used in a spray, and it is perfectly conceivable that whole regiments of men could be put out of action in an incredibly short time by its use.

The danger, of course, as all of the conferees seem to recognize, is that if experiment along chemical lines does not go on in this country or that country, some other country will secretly experiment, with the result that if war shall come, some nation bent on quick victory will be able to overcome an opponent which is unprepared to meet the new gas weapon.

In his foreword to the book just written by General Fries and Major West, General Sibert says: "History proves that an effective implement of warfare has never been discarded until it becomes obsolete."

In this one sentence, perhaps, is to be found the reason why no nation which believes in preparations for defense will be willing to forego experiments in poison-gas making. A defensive must be ready to meet a possible offensive.

Imports Ant Bears.

Fruit and vegetable growers of the state of Washington are interested in the importation of three ant bears, a male and two females, from Mexico. These ant bears were brought into the country recently and an attempt will be made to acclimate them. Their food is potato bugs, locusts and other insects injurious to plant life. They are gluttonous and seemingly eat all the time. The ant bear does not hibernate and the three brought to this country will spend the winter in a greenhouse, keeping down the insect population indoors.

CRAWFORD DAMAGE CASE SETTLED BY AGREEMENT

A settlement has been agreed upon between George Crawford and the Liverpool Traction & Light Co., and the Steubenville, East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction company, in the $5,000 damage case, which was on the assignment for trial early this week in the court presided over by Judge John Worley. The terms of the settlement were not given out, but the case has been withdrawn from the files in court.

Crawford was in the employ of the traction company during the summer of 1917, and on July 18, was assisting in unloading a flat car near the car barns on Pennsylvania ave. in East Liverpool. The company had taken a pole from out of the ground near to where the car was standing leaving a hole three feet deep, and when he fell into the same he fractured his ankle and injured himself otherwise.

Parking Rules

Editor of The News:

I think all merchants will agree with the writer that there are three reasons why a person seeks to deal with them. One because of personality, another a question of price and quality, last but not least, the accessibility of getting to your place of business.

I notice a number of merchants drive their cars and park in front of their place of business, and leave stand until lunch hour or close of day's business, thus shutting out the transient trade of that forgotten collar or pound of coffee and etc, and driving their trade elsewhere.

I believe a parking ordinance if enforced of one hour or less stand between Luecin and Depot st. Broadway included, would give every merchant, lawyer, and real estate man a square deal.

And it would be greatly appreciated by the buying public, who want to park and make a purchase and a quick get-away for home. "Let's go." If it is personality, cultivate it. If it is price, remedy it. If it is lack of place to park, clear the streets. It is only a business proposition, "O Min."

MR. JOHNSON FINDS WALLET

Indianapolis Attorney Wakes Up When He Hears Gleeful Giggles From Weeds on Roadside.

Emley W. Johnson, attorney, was taking a spin in his car on a country road southeast of Indianapolis the other evening when, approaching a little town, he saw a large, plump, leather purse lying between the wheel tracks. Mr. Johnson thrilled with the ancient pleasure of discovery. He stopped the car and climbed out, wondering silently who had dropped the wallet, and how many green or yellow crinkly ones were in it. He looked around as he alighted, and saw that the roadway was walled on either side with a pigmy forest of ironweeds, ragweeds, horseweeds and jimson, forming a jungle that crowded in as if to close the highway.

Walking back to the spot where the purse had been, the attorney rubbed his eyes. No purse was there; instead, there was a wide welt in the dust as if some object had been dragged diagonally across the right-of-way. The same moment a broadside of gleeful giggles burst from the weed jungle, left and right. Mr. Johnson did not pause. He did not even speak. He smiled slightly as he clambered into his automobile. For Mr. Johnson himself was once a boy.—Indianapolis News.

TYPES OF ORATORY IN ARMS CONFAB

PREMIER BRIAND IS DRAMATIC AND SWIFT, WHILE BALFOUR GROPE FOR WORDS.

BOTH HOLD THEIR AUDITORS

M. Camerlynck, Official Interpreter, is in a Way, the Greatest Orator in the Conference—Baron Kato Talks Like a Fighting Man.

By EDWARD B. CLARK

Washington.—The speaking methods of Briand and Balfour are as unlike as the languages in which they express their thoughts. Briand is dramatic, while Balfour is not. Each after his own manner makes his way into the minds of the listeners.

Briand is dramatic, but with his oratory seemingly running fast, and with his gestures keeping pace with them, he separates his words so markedly that the American book student of French can understand him. This makes it pleasant for those of us who can read French fairly easily, but who ordinarily cannot get a word in the rapid-fire replies of a Frenchman to questions put in the timid and hesitating manner of a man who is trying to remember his genders and his tenses.

Balfour literally gropes for words at times. He gets close to the end of a sentence and then seemingly cannot pick the word with which he wants to end it. About three words before the end he puts his hands in the air with the fingers arranged for a clutching process. Finally after three or four genuinely English "ers" he discovers the fair of the word that he wants, pulls it forth, brings it down, and gives it utterance.

Balfour, however, holds his auditors. It has become a game with his hearers to try to fix in advance on the word for which he gropes. Sometimes the audience hits it right, and sometimes wrong; generally wrong, however, for when the British statesman finally finds his word it frequently proves to be an unusual synonym for the word which the audience thinks he is after.

Interpreter Camerlynck's Methods.

A good deal has been written about Balfour, but the real continuing joy of the conference is the interpreter, M. Camerlynck. He is, in his own way, the greatest orator in the conference, albeit he orates in the words of others and immediately following their utterance, M. Camerlynck takes the French down in shorthand and then delivers it in English from his shorthand notes. He does the thing also in reverse and each process seemingly is equally easy.

Mr. Balfour makes no gestures except the groping one, but M. Camerlynck when translating Balfour supplies gestures on his own account. Balfour, when listening, recognizes his translated words, but he does not recognize anything else.

Briand is much amused, for he plainly shows amusement, as he watches Interpreter Camerlynck repeat in English the French premier's addresses. Camerlynck has the Briand manner to a T. He would make a good actor of the kind which clings close to the traditions of the great masters of the acting craft. He is the chiefest of the copyists. In his capacity as translator at many conferences he has watched men speak. It is perhaps unconsciously that he doubles up their manners as he doubles up their words.

Kato Eloquent but Not Flowery.

Baron Kato, the Japanese admiral, is an orator, but there are no flowers in his oratory. He speaks like a Japanese three-pounder gun, true sailor-like and, if you will, soldier-like. He speaks in Japanese. All that one who does not understand a word of the language can tell is that the admiral is pounding something home and that he means what he says. He has an interpreter with him, one of the few Japanese present at the conference who understands the shades of meaning of the American language. The interpreter also pounds like a field gun when translating. He gives the admiral's spirit as he gives the admiral's words.

The British, the French, the Japanese and the other representatives of foreign powers here assembled have had some little instruction apparently from the American State department concerning their dealings with Washington correspondents. They have been told that they can say anything that they wish to the men who are stationed here as continuing correspondents, and can say it with every assurance that they will not be quoted and that their information will not be used if they declare in advance that it is to be taken as confidential.

The result of this is that the British have foregone their habit of reticence and talk freely. The Japanese have been free enough with information from the first. They are becoming voluble.

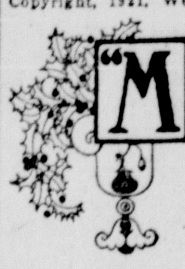

The French seem to feel that they are assured of sympathetic treatment in America, and the result is that they are more liberal with information, perhaps, than the others. The Italians follow the French closely in this matter of communicativeness.

In Fact, Has Record as Collector.

Holiday Prodigals

By Walter Joseph Delaney

MERRY CHRISTMAS," shouted a voice outside the home of Seth and Esther Marvin at Easton, and in blank surprise those estimable persons came to the porch and viewed Uncle Gregory Thearle just departing. To the fence was tied the fattest, sleekest calf they had ever seen.

"Why, what is this?" inquired Mr. Marvin, staring vaguely.

"Can't you see—fatted calf! It will do for Christmas, eh? You'll need it. I'll be over later; good bye till then and Merry Christmas!"

He went his way waving his hand mysteriously and chuckling and shaking with half suppressed jollity.

"He must mean the boys, Oh, Seth, can it be that they are coming home?" palpitated Mrs. Marvin.

"I don't know, but there is some hidden mystery in the actions of our relative. You know he always liked Bob and Tom and Ned. Perhaps he has kept track of them."

Mr. Marvin sighed and he had reason to do so. And his loving loyal helpmeet cheerlessly echoed the aspiration. Then eyes met and there were mutual tears in them. Then Seth went to the woodshed and came forth again holding a hatchet and a saw.

"Where are you going?" inquired Esther curiously.

"Over to the woods. I'm going to get some evergreen and holly. It is as well to be prepared for a surprise."

Just as fall had set in the three sons of the worthy couple had left home secretly one night after writing a note, honest and respectful, announcing that they had heard of positions in a distant factory, and realizing that a mortgage on the home and hard times were distressing the dear old father they felt it their duty to do something toward the family support.

For three months regularly there had come a draft for quite an amount, but no other word from the runaways.

And now—on Christmas eve—there were three glad, grateful visitors to the little cottage: Tom, Bob and Ned once more rested under the dear old home roof. The news got about town. The lads were popular and had many true friends. Three, particularly, arrived with their sisters just as the prodigals wished and hoped. And in the evening the same welcome coterie made the old home cheery with their chatter at the supper table. Then appeared Uncle Gregory. He winked and blinked at his three prime favorites, the boys, and brought two turkeys for the holiday feast.

"But the fatted calf for the prodigals," he queried chucklingly. "So appropriate, and it will last a week."

And an hour later Uncle Gregory blossomed forth in his most felicitous

He Brought a Fatted Calf.

style. He handed a folded legal looking document to Mrs. Marvin.

"What is this, Uncle Gregory?" she inquired.

"Release of the mortgage these dear lads hoped to pay through their own exertions, but they are only boys. If good ones, and the task was too heavy for them. And, by the way lads, here's a bank book. I consider you a good investment and I have donated what will take you through college and prepare you for battling with the world—well educated men."

"I declare!" murmured Mr. Marvin and there was a catch in his throat.

As to Mrs. Marvin she came up to the old man and placed her loving arm about him and kissed him fervently.

"Yes it is a genuine surprise, indeed," voiced Mr. Marvin. "Blessings come thickly when we most need them."

And the three charming girls were more beautiful to the returned prodigals than ever, and old Uncle Gregory seemed to renew his youth amid the glowing happiness of that gloriously happy Yuletide hour.

"It will be mistletoe and kisses next Christmas," he insinuated, with a chuckle for the three lovely girls who each sat close to their admiring lover and who felt that the Christmas bells were ringing especially to celebrate their Christmas happiness.

"Prodigals returned!" murmured Uncle Gregory raptly, "but practical ones. Dear me! truly this is peace on earth, good will toward all men" and he left for home smiling through his happy tears, and singing the refrain of a happy, merry old Christmas song.

CORNER-STONE CASKET DATA

English Historian Suggests Most Useful Things and Data to be Placed in Cavity.

The manager of a huge building that is being erected in England has, says the Manchester Guardian, been considering the idea of a foundation-stone casket to be imbedded in the great mass of ferro-concrete on which the building is to stand. As a reader of Mr. Wells' "Outline of History" he has been struck by Mr. Wells' difficulty, through lack of significant material, in dealing with the world's history 3,000 years ago. As he was told that the concrete foundations would last at least that time, he thought that it might be of use to the Mr. Wells of A. D. 4921 if he found the information about our time neatly prepared for him. Accordingly he wrote to Mr. Wells and asked him to suggest what would be the most useful things or messages to be placed in the cavity. Here is Mr. Wells' reply:

"Difficult to make suggestions. Probably commonplace things with their current prices will be of as much value as anything. Safety razor, cotton reel, bottle of pickles and that sort of thing. A mail-order catalogue, pre-war medicines and what they profess to cure. Dietary for ordinary citizen; typewriter, a sewing machine, and so forth. Dressing bag with fittings. Current book on 'How to Behave.' A cinema reel of current events, Whitaker's Almanac and Bradshaw's Continental time-tables (pre-war and post-war). Baedeker's England, Town maps and plans."

London had 7,476,163 residents when this year's census was taken in June, slightly less than one-fifth of the population of England and Wales

Another Convincing Endorsement Given Famous Nerv-Worth

Fosteria, O., Man Quickly Overcame Weakness, Nerves, Sleeplessness.

"I had a sick spell, and it left me in such a nervous condition that I could not sleep," wrote M. L. Betzer, 220 W. North St., Fosteria, Ohio. "I was weak in the legs and couldn't go to work without being tired out at night. I decided to try Nerv-Worth and after my second bottle I am happy to say I sleep good, and I'm not a bit nervous. I am getting more strength every day."

Nothing needs to be added to the above statement to make it more effective because it tells its own story.
